What Ofsted says about Little Oaks settings:

Children benefit from the inclusive and friendly atmosphere created by the leaders. Children arrive happy and ready to play, quickly settling into their chosen activities. New children receive a welcome induction on their first session. Leaders explain where to find things, what is available for children to do, the food on offer and about outdoor play. Leaders talk about the rules that help children to stay safe and to be kind and considerate to others. This helps children to make relationships with the leaders and helps them to understand what to expect.

Children behave extremely well. They are chatty, well mannered and polite to each other, the leaders and visitors. Alongside this they laugh and have fun together.

Children are excited by the innovative topics that the leaders develop from ideas and suggestions that the children make. The topic on mythical creatures and their habitats inspires creativity in the children. Good use is made of the outdoor environment. Children and leaders spend time exploring areas around plants trying to find snails. Although they appear to have moved on, there is plenty of interest in the worms and beetles that they find. Leaders take the time to talk with children, they use a wide vocabulary and check children's understanding of new and unfamiliar words.

Leaders have a wealth of knowledge and experience in education, and they use this to excellent effect in planning and delivering an inspiring range of experiences for children of all ages.
